

Let's Go to College: School Success (2nd & 3rd Grade)

Following the rules is the key to your success in school now and when you go to college. Each class and every teacher will have a different set of rules, but all rules are meant to keep you safe and create a great place to learn. Do you know your current teacher's class rules? Check with your teacher to see if there are certain items you can and cannot bring to class or if there are certain activities you are not allowed to take part in. Another thing that's key to your success is getting your parents involved with your school work and activities. Parents want to know how you're doing in school. Inviting them to go on a class field trip or just read with you for 30 minutes each day can help parents be more engaged in all that's happening with your education.

Classroom Rules

Instructions: List a few classroom rules that you think are important for everyone to follow.

Rules

1. Be kind to others. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

This Belongs Here

Instructions: There are certain items that belong at school and other items that don't. Look at the objects below and decide where they belong. Put a plus sign (+) in the column if the item shown is allowed to be in the location; place a minus sign (-) in the column if the item is not allowed. The first one has been done for you.

Items	Classroom	Lunchroom	Recess	Home
Game Controller 	-	-	-	+
Taco
Paint Set
Sports Balls
Laptop
Your Pet Hamster

Career Subjects

Instructions: All school subjects are important, but certain subjects are especially important in different careers. Read the descriptions below and determine which subject the student will use most in their desired career. Subjects can be used more than once and some questions may have more than one answer.

School Subject Word Bank

Reading	Science	Art	Math
Music	Language Arts	P.E./Gym	Social Studies

1. Monica wants to be an architect who designs structures. She must learn how to draw different buildings. What subject will she use most in her career?

2. Donovan wants to be a book editor who helps authors present their best work. He must learn how to read and correct the writing of others. What subject will he use most in his career?

3. Francine wants to be a realtor who helps people buy and sell property. She must learn how to calculate the costs of different structures. What subject will she use most in her career?

4. Jeremiah wants to be a fitness instructor who helps people stay healthy. He must learn how to teach many exercise routines. What subject will he use most in his career?

5. Ian wants to be a pharmacist who makes sure people get the right medicine. He must learn what remedies make people feel better. What subject will he use most in his career?

Career Subjects, cont.

Instructions: All school subjects are important, but certain subjects are especially important in different careers. Read the descriptions below and determine which subject the student will use most in his or her desired career. Subjects can be used more than once and some questions may have more than one answer.

School Subject Word Bank

Reading	Science	Art	Math
Music	Language Arts	P.E./Gym	Social Studies

6. Tiffany wants to be a video game developer who creates great tales for animated scenes. She must learn how to write interesting stories. What subject will she use most in her career?

7. Timothy wants to be a geographer who discovers more about the earth. He must learn about the earth's structure and the people who live on the planet. What subject will he use most in his career?

8. Parker wants to be a lead vocalist who travels with a band. She must practice singing and directing others. What subject will she use most in her career?

9. Skylar wants to be a mobile app developer who makes fun games. She must learn how to use numbers to code different apps. What subject will she use most in her career?

10. Leo wants to be a business owner who manages a plant nursery. He must learn how to take care of different plants. What subject will he use most in his career?

This Belongs Here ANSWER KEY

Instructions: There are certain items that belong at school and other items that don't. Look at the objects below and decide where they belong. Put a plus sign (+) in the column if the item shown is allowed to be in the location; place a minus sign (-) in the column if the item is not allowed. The first one has been done for you.

Items	Classroom	Lunchroom	Recess	Home
Game Controller 	-	-	-	+
Taco 	-	+	-	+
Paint Set 	+	-	-	+
Sports Balls 	-	-	+	+
Laptop 	+	-	-	+
Your Pet Hamster 	-	-	-	+

Career Subjects ANSWER KEY

Instructions: All school subjects are important, but certain subjects are especially important in different careers. Read the descriptions below and determine which subject the student will use most in his or her desired career. Subjects can be used more than once and some questions may have more than one answer. This activity is based on students' opinions so answers may vary.

School Subject Word Bank

Reading	Science	Art	Math
Music	Language Arts	P.E./Gym	Social Studies

1. Monica wants to be an architect who designs structures. She must learn how to draw different buildings. What subject will she use most in her career?

Art and Math

2. Donovan wants to be a book editor who helps authors present their best work. He must learn how to read and correct the writing of others. What subject will he study the most?

Reading and Language Arts

3. Francine wants to be a realtor who helps people buy and sell property. She must learn how to calculate the costs of different structures. What subject will she study the most?

Math

4. Jeremiah wants to be a fitness instructor who helps people stay healthy. He must learn how to teach many exercise routines. What subject will he study the most?

P.E./Gym

5. Ian wants to be a pharmacist who makes sure people get the right medicine. He must learn what remedies make people feel better. What subject will he study the most?

Science

Career Subjects, cont. ANSWER KEY

Instructions: All school subjects are important, but certain subjects are especially important in different careers. Read the descriptions below and determine which subject the student will use most in his or her desired career. Subjects can be used more than once and some questions may have more than one answer. This activity is based on students' opinions so answers may vary.

School Subject Word Bank

Reading	Science	Art	Math
Music	Language Arts	P.E./Gym	Social Studies

6. Tiffany wants to be a video game developer who creates great tales for animated scenes. She must learn how to write interesting stories. What subject will she study the most?

Language Arts

7. Timothy wants to be a geographer who discovers more about the earth. He must learn about the earth's structure and the people who live on the planet. What subject will he study the most?

Social Studies and Science

8. Parker wants to be a lead vocalist who travels with a band. She must practice singing and directing others. What subject will she study the most?

Music

9. Skylar wants to be a mobile app developer who makes fun games. She must learn how to use numbers to code different apps. What subject will she study the most?

Math

10. Leo wants to be a business owner who manages a plant nursery. He must learn how to take care of different plants. What subject will he study the most?

Science
